

had to be taught everything from the beginning again, forgetting what useful information I already knew. With the old tutor, I had taught myself more than I had learned.

By the time I was fifteen, I had a small, part-time job playing songs on the local radio. At school I was popular because of this. After two years of doing my favourite job, a record company had heard me play. It so happened that they were organising the Hawaii Music Festival. They offered me a chance to play there, giving me tickets free of charge. Naturally, I accepted. So they flew me to Hawaii, and there, I met Ashton-De-loren and Ace Wild. We were given a spot to play on stage as an opening act, and we made it an excellent one. After that, we got together and made a band called "Skulls and Rockbones".

I am the bass guitar player, and I play lots of chords, and that's why our band sounds so great. With the help of Ashton and Ace, the band has been a real success. The band's dream is to enter the charts and get to number 1.
